

Holiday Traditions

As a child, I used to spend long hot summer days at my Grandfather's shore house, boating, fishing off the pier, swimming in the bay, imagining other worlds in the depths of the water. This was a world where I had gills and fins and shining scales for skin. I would spend hours splashing around, swimming mermaid style, searching for lost treasure on the seafloor. This bright and fun collection is for all the other water babies out there. The coordinating mix of prints is perfect for quilting, handcrafts, kids clothing and home furnishing décor.
